"Winterizing" of Homes Now Is Being Advocated

The federal Housing administration, in co-operation with other government agencies, is taking steps to minimize the effects of a fuel shortage next winter even more serious than any we have yet experienced, according to Ed. F. Vos of the Antioch Lumber and Coal company.

Taxes Must Be Paid Direct To Co. Treasurer

Ruling by Judge Dady Sets Aside Plea of Town Collectors for Books

Tax books of Lake county will be ready for delivery to the county treasurer, Gustaf H. Fredbeck, by June 1, it is announced by Deputy County Clerk Walter J. Smith.

Delivery of the books to the treasurer's office instead of to the town collectors, as is the usual custom, is being made in accordance with a ruling of Circuit Judge Ralph J. Dady.

A suit was filed recently by 10 of the 14 town collectors, asking that County Clerk Jay B. Morse be enjoined from turning over the tax books to the county treasurer, and that instead they be turned over to the town collectors in order that they might collect the first installment of real and personal property taxes in Lake county this year.

The suit also asked that the collectors be permitted to collect the taxes as listed in the books without penalty for a period of 30 days.

To Abide by Decision In Circuit court Tuesday, however, Judge Dady ruled against this suit. The collectors, with insufficient time left to appeal to a higher court, have announced that they will abide by decision, which will deprive them of fees ranging from $750 to more than $1,500 this year. Several of the collectors are said to depend on this income for their livelihood.

The county treasurer's office will not, it is believed, be fully prepared for the huge task of collecting all the taxes. In order to reduce the burden as much as possible, tax payers are being requested to pay their entire year's taxes at one time if they are in a position to do so.

May Work Hardships Collection of all taxes at the county ty seat is also expected to work some hardship on those who live in the sections of the county which are some distance from Waukegan and who prefer to pay their taxes in personparticularly in these days of gasoline rationing.

At least 15 days after receiving the books will be needed for preparing the individual tax bills, Fredbeck estimates. He expects, however, that they will be in the mail by June 15. The one per cent penalty for nonpayment of taxes under the first installment will be made effective August 15, in accordance with a ruling by George F. Barrett, attorney gen-

The delay in compiling assessments and preparing tax bills was caused by litigation at the state capital in Springfield with regard to the right of the state revenue department to fix railroad and capital stock assessments in each county.

Mrs. Leslie Bonner and daughter, Miss Beryl Bonner sang "O Mother Mine" and group singing was led by Miss Margaret Denman. Each mother was presented a small potted geranium. The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Don Truax on noon, May 19, with twelve members Methodist parsonage Saturday, May and one guest, Mrs. Robert McCann, present. Library chairman, Mrs. Vic-C. Henslee officiated. tor Strang, reported on number of books given out at last meeting and several were checked out this month. Four-H Chairman Mrs. L. O. Hollenbeck reported two clubs, clothing and foods, would be organized at her home on Saturday afternoon with Mrs. James Cunningham and Mrs. Leslie Diedrich as leaders. As the minor lesson, Mrs. Helen Volk dis-• cussed what the Extension Service is doing for Lake County with an interesting quiz in which all took part.

The major lesson "Appreciation of Pictures in the Home" was also given by Mrs. Volk with many interesting pointers about selecting, framing and hanging pictures.

Twenty young people met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Truax for their Sunday evening service. Rev. Messersmith told of his recent visit to the "Little Brown Church" at Nashua, Iowa. A special feature of the evening was a birthday surprise in honor of Rev. Messersmith who was presented a gift from the group. The regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society has been postponed from

June 1 to June 8. Mrs. Ida Truax and daughters, Lois and Mrs. George Dellaan and daughter Randel were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tebbins

CHAPTER XIX

"When I said I hadn't got it, he said if it ever did come through, I wasn't to open it until he got back, or something like that. He'd meant every word of it, and yet now it seemed he didn't want me to see it. I couldn't understand. But it didn't seem to matter. Because what did any letter matter, now that we could . tall, thin, dark-haired, with a finely talk, all we wanted to, around the world?" "It was long after midnight when we finished," said Frank. "But it was some satisfaction to know it would cost the Japanese maybe five hundred dollars, and I only hoped I'd be out of Java so they couldn't collect from me. "Then I got back to work on the Dutch military, who of course were up all that night. They knew what was coming tomorrow even if the civilians were only beginning to suspect. It was two o'clock in the morning when I got Major Fisher out of bed with the news that already the landing barges of one flank of this invasion force had been sighted right off the beach. "After a final desperate call to the Dutch General van Oeyen, he agreed our boys might leave, turning their P-40's over to the Dutch fighter pilots, provided that before they went they strafed the Jap landing barges. Without verbal orders from the Dutch commander, they would not have gone. "So I rustled two cars and a truck to transport them, and by four o'clock we were headed for Gnoro. We got there a few minutes before dawn, to find our boys were up and out on that final mission, although they did not know it was their last.

"Again we telephoned Van Oeyen 40-degree angle toward the ground, in Surabaya to tell him the orders let go the little egg, pull out of their had been obeyed, and he told us re- dives and then-r-r-r-umpf, the bomb luctantly to bid them Godspeed and good luck; they had fought the good fight, and those who returned from this mission were now free to go to Australia. The Colonel had told me the day before terday. that if I could get them across Java -to Jockstrap-by noon, they would find three Fortresses which he had ordered back from Australia to pick them up. However, he couldn't guarantee that these Forts would dare to drive carefully and stay towait on that field beyond noon. "As we stood on the Gnoro Field speed we can make. A close squeeze of course I got tense. Would those to make it by noon. Then, in spite kids come back alive and in time to of the road map, we get lost-not get across Java by noon? If we were badly, but two or three times we late, would the bomber pilots get must backtrack. Then I see we'll jittery and maybe pull out without never make it by noon. The boys, us? There was a cross fire, too-from Jap shore batteries, already landed. At last they had set their ugly, crooked teeth into the fair white coastline of Java. Jack said, however, that he could see his bullets taking effect as the Japs spread out, either diving or being blown off their barges. But he said he found he was flying so low that his own propeller was picking up the water splashes of his bullets ahead, so he had to pull up.

"Just as he did this, he noticed his wing man was also pulling up, wheels down-now he could see his should have telephones from which, and out to the right, and letting his out to him to bail out quick, not to call the Colonel and tell him we're try to come in on the beach. "Then, to one side, I see leaping flames and a column of smoke. That's all the marker you need to find an airdrome at this stage of a war. I tell the driver to steer for the smoke and he'll find the field.

"And at first it seems all to have been for nothing. There are the hangars, split wide open-six or seven Forts burning merrily. Also the water tower is hit. Professionally, I admire it as one of the best bomb runs I've ever seen. The Japs seem to have made a perfect job of cutting off our retreat-but no! There remains a single Fortress!

"It seems Licutenant Vandevanter managed in the nick of time to get her off the ground, and flew out to sea until the raid was over. Luckily they sent only bombers, and no Zeros which could shoot him down. Here he is now, perched on the edge of the field.

"But at the utmost he can carry only a third of us. I dispatch about fifty in the trucks to Madiun Field, hoping it isn't blown up, and that two Forts the Colonel tells me are due in from Australia can get them say what we don't mean, but how

So with the Dutch liaison officer there at Jockstrap, we made arrangements that if tomorrow night we could get any planes through from Australia, they would circle our old bomber field at Malang. The liaison officer was to notify Anamaet, so that if his Dutch fighter pilots could get there, and Malang wasn't by then in Jap hands, they would light a bonfire on its field as a signal that it was safe for our Forts to come in and pick them up and take them out to Australia, where we'd have another chance to ing truck. All had to cram forward for the takeoff, of course, for with that big load in the rear we'd never have got her tail up. We manned battle stations, and only after we were halfway across the ocean did the gunners leave their turrets. I rode up in the pilot's compartment, and there were at least seven of
